

Discussion QuestionsTopic Talk

1. Define the following words: primitive, rite, species, ancestor
2. What did the scientists discover?
3. Where were the human-like species found?
4. Describe what the new branch of hominids look like?
5. How did the bodies of the Homo Naledi end up in a remote part of the caves?

Discussion QuestionsExpress Your Thoughts

1. Scientists claim that the discovery will change ideas about our human ancestors. What can you say about the Homo Naledi?
2. There have been different theories on the origin of humans. From your stand, do you have a particular theory of human evolution that you believe is true?
3. Many sources claim that South Africa is the cradle of humankind while human civilization flourished in Mesopotamia given the number of prehistoric evidences found in these places. How do the earliest findings affect the modern society?
4. In your country, do you have traditional practices still observed today?
5. If you can show and share something from the present-day to your ancestors, what would it be? Why?