

At the end of the lesson, the student will be able to:

* construct sentences using subordinating conjunctions.

Let's Study!

show slight contrast

although, even though

Although Jane won, she was not happy.

give reasons

because, since, so that

Jake passed the exam since he studied well.

time relationship

when, while, before, after

When I went to the store yesterday, I saw John with another woman.

place

Wherever, anywhere

My pet keeps following me wherever I go.

indicate conditions

if, unless, whether or not

I can't answer any calls in the office unless it's really important.

indicate major contrast

whereas

My mom likes to get a dog whereas my dad wants a cat.

Let's Try!

*Complete the sentences by filling in the gap with the correct subordinating conjunction from the box below .

although	so that	while	when
	unless	until	even though

1. I will call you ____ I arrive home.
2. ____ the police serve a warrant, they can't search the house.
3. Tony has been eating a lot _____ he's overweight.
4. I worked double _____ I could save enough money for marriage.
5. I need to get that book _____ it's still available.
6. I'm sneaking my way out of the house _____ my mom is asleep.
7. My boyfriend and I have agreed not to move in together ____ we got married.