

Dialogue

A: Good evening.

B: A table for two please.

A: Certainly. Just here, sir.

B: Could we sit by the window?

A: I'm sorry. The window tables are all reserved.

.....

A: Are you ready to order, sir?

B: Yes. I'll have tomato soup for starters and my wife would like prawn cocktail.

A: One tomato soup and one prawn cocktail. What would you like for main course?

B: I'll have the plaice and my wife would like the shepherd's pie.

A: I'm afraid the plaice is off.

B: Oh dear. What do you recommend?

A: The steak pie is very good.

B: OK I'll have that.

A: Would you like anything to drink?

B: Yes, a bottle of red wine please.

Vocabulary

Prawn
Cocktail

Plaice

Reserved
Table

Let's Talk

1. What do you usually order for starters?
2. What's your favorite for the main course?
3. How about for the dessert?
4. What do Japanese can't eat without?
5. Do you prefer eating in a fancy restaurant?
6. When was the last time you had a dinner outside?

