

Carmen: Welcome to Life's Concern. I'm your host, Carmen Cole. Today Our program is about "facing problems one of the hardest things in life". We have our first caller Hiro. Hello...

Hiro: I'm from Japan. I have a boyfriend from India whom I met here in the U.S.

Carmen: Okay, and what's the problem?

Hiro: He asked me to get married to him. But my parents don't agree on international marriage.

Carmen: Hmm...

Hiro: I can't tell my parents. I'm worried about it. He wanted to visit Japan. I'm afraid of it. Do I have to put off the visit?

Carmen: That's Hiro's problem ,folks. Now what's your advice to her?

Respond to the Ideas

1. What are your advices to Hiro?
2. What are your views regarding International Marriage?
3. Give one advantage of International Marriage.

Interaction Link:

1. If you were in the same boat with Hiro, what would you do?
2. Example you are married to an American and you have children. They are confused where to live. If they live in America, they will suffer from racial discrimination. If they live in Japan, there will be language problem. What will be your decision? Why?
